

Nick Adams

Nick Adams is the Vice President of EMEA at Globalization Partners based in London, UK, where he leads the company's international expansion into Europe. With a focus on building a strategic partner network and overseeing regional revenue operations, Nick comes to Globalization Partners with a wealth of experience scaling high growth businesses and is a firm believer in customer focus, integrity and teamwork; values that the company enshrines across the organisation in everything that it does.